ORDER ON MOTION FOR REHEARING

THIS MATTER is before the court on the Motion for Rehearing filed by the defendant, Monte Rex Bitner. On February 23, 1993, this court entered its Final Judgment on the complaint of the plaintiff, Mattie Bitner for a determination of the dischargeability or non-dischargeability pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(5) of certain obligations owed to plaintiff by defendant as a result of their dissolution of marriage. In his motion for rehearing, the defendant requests that this court make a definitive ruling regarding his obligation as contained in the final judgment dissolving their marriage to reimburse plaintiff the sum of $1,045.00 as a result of

Based on the factors set forth in this court's findings of fact and conclusions of law entered in this case on February 24, 1993, it is clear that the purpose and nature of the order that defendant dissolved his marriage.

Judge Padovano's November 26th order was specifically incorporated in the court's February 21, 1992 Amended Final Judgment of ratification.

Faillure to pay the Levy within five (5) days will result in an order to show cause why he should not be held in contempt in October 29, 1991 in the amount of $1,045.01 within five (5) days. The petitioner/husband, Monte R. Bitner, shall be responsible for payment of the Internal Revenue Service Levy dated October 29, 1991 in the amount of $1,045.01 within five (5) days.

THEFORE IT IS ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that:

Pay the Levy.

2) The wife is in need of her paycheck and the husband should to insulate the wife against the Internal Revenue Service Levy.

1) Judge Sauls had previously instructed the petitioner/husband Philip J. Padovano, Circuit Judge found as follows: Plaintiff for the $1,045.00 levied by the I.R.S. was originally contained in an order dated November 26, 1991, in which the honorable

The obligation of the defendant, Monte Bitner to reimburse shall be granted and that item will be addressed herein.

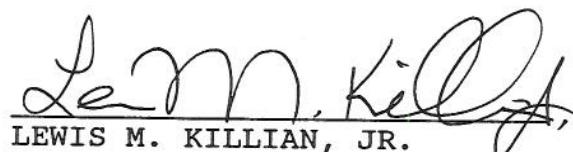

addressed in the court's final judgment and therefore the motion found that the matter of the I.R.S. Levy was not sufficiently defendant's motion for rehearing and the plaintiff's objection thereto, we an I.R.S. Levy. Having reviewed this matter including the defendant's motion for rehearing and the plaintiff's objection thereto, we reimburse plaintiff for the I.R.S. levy was to provide her support and to balance the disparate incomes of the parties rather than to divide property and debts. Accordingly, the debtor's obligation to reimburse plaintiff the sum of $1,045.01 for the I.R.S. levy is determined to be nondischargeable pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(5). Accordingly, it is HEREBY ORDERED AND ADJUDGED defendant's Motion for Rehearing be and same is hereby granted and the Final Judgment is this case be and same is hereby amended to provide that the defendant's obligation to reimburse plaintiff the sum of $1,045.01 be and same is hereby excepted from discharge pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 5239(a)(5).

DONE AND ORDERED at Tallahassee, Florida, this 4th day of May 1993.
